

Begabati Lennihan, RN, CCH (Certified Classical Homeopath) practices homeopathy at the Lydian Center for Innovative Medicine in Cambridge, MA and is Director of Teleosis School of Homeopathy. She is an adjunct faculty member at Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and for many years she has taught meditation classes at Harvard's Center for Wellness. She has recently founded the GreenHealing Institute, whose "A Healer In Every Home" initiative is aimed at empowering people to use natural medicines safely, effectively and appropriately; and the "GreenHealing Educator" program training people to share their passion for natural healing with others in their community. For more information visit: www.greenhealing.org.