

One-Year Program Courses

OYP 101 The Maturation Process

Schedule: Thursday 5:00 – 6:30

Faculty: Perlman

The goal of the class is to acquaint clinical practitioners and professionals from various disciplines with modern psychoanalytic thinking in order to enhance therapeutic skills and to give an in depth “taste” of the Boston Graduate School of Psychoanalysis. The class will focus on how an infant begins to develop psychic structure, as well as the transformation of drives through the libidinal stages. The fundamental conflict of the life and death drives and their role in shaping character is a part of this discussion.

OYP 100 Transference and Resistance

Schedule: Thursday 6:45 – 8:15

Faculty: White

Students will learn to understand the function of resistance. They will also learn about recognizing transference and its implications and observations for making inferences and interventions.

Extension Division

EX 214 Child and Adolescent Psychoanalytic Supervision

Schedule: Off-class Thursdays 5:30 – 7:00 (exact meeting time will be discussed at first class)

Faculty: Jones

**Please note: The first class meeting of Dr. Jones’ section of EX214 will be held on Thursday, February 11. The class will meet every other week. These weeks do not always correspond to off-class weeks. They adhere to an every other week meeting schedule.*

Schedule: Off-class Mondays* 6:00 - 7:30 and Tuesdays* 7:00 - 8:30      Faculty: Michael

**Please Note: Ms. Michael’s section meets on off-class Tuesdays during the week of the monthly school-based meeting. All other meetings are held on Monday.*

Fee: $295.00

This supervision group offers an opportunity to apply modern psychoanalytic techniques to the treatment of children and adolescents in the conventional office setting and in non-conventional settings, such as home and school. Issues such as art therapy, symbolic communication and parent work will be addressed as well as the unique challenges in working with a younger population. Diagnostic questions specific to children will also be addressed.